EXPLANATION OF TERMS USED AND RULES FOLLOWED IN COMPILING RECORDS.

Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed where all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants and warranty.

C. a G. means a deed containing covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no expressed consideration, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it.

The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made by them by the Department of Public Works.

The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given. When the date of drawing is other than in the current year the stated year is given. When both the dates are in the same year the year follows the second date.

The figures in each conveyance, thus 2:482-10, denote that the property mentioned is in section 2, block 482, lot 10.

It should also be noted in section and block numbers that the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

A$20,000-$30,000 indicates the assessed value of the property, the first figures being for the lot and the second figures representing both lot and building. Letter P before second figure indicates that the property is assessed as in course of construction. Valuations are from the assessment roll of 1919.

T. S. preceding the consideration in a conveyance means that the deed of conveyance has been recorded under the Torrens System.

Flats and apartment houses are classified as tenements.

Residences as dwellings.

All Christian names, streets, avenues, states and months are abbreviated when possible, also in some instances names of Banks, Trusts and Insurance Companies.

The star following names of street or avenue in the Bronx Conveyances, Leases and Mortgages indicates that the property recorded is in the annexed district, for which there is no section or block number.

Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed where all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants and warranty.

C. a G. means a deed containing covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no expressed consideration, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it.

The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made by them by the Department of Public Works.

The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given. When the date of drawing is other than in the current year the stated year is given. When both the dates are in the same year the year follows the second date.

The figures in each conveyance, thus 2:482-10, denote that the property mentioned is in section 2, block 482, lot 10.

It should also be noted in section and block numbers that the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

A$20,000-$30,000 indicates the assessed value of the property, the first figures being for the lot and the second figures representing both lot and building. Letter P before second figure indicates that the property is assessed as in course of construction. Valuations are from the assessment roll of 1919.

T. S. preceding the consideration in a conveyance means that the deed of conveyance has been recorded under the Torrens System.

Flats and apartment houses are classified as tenements.

Residences as dwellings.

All Christian names, streets, avenues, states and months are abbreviated when possible, also in some instances names of Banks, Trusts and Insurance Companies.

The star following names of street or avenue in the Bronx Conveyances, Leases and Mortgages indicates that the property recorded is in the annexed district, for which there is no section or block number.

Savers Make Good Citizens
A man with a bank account or a man who owns his own home is never a Bolshevik.
It will pay you to be the owner of something all your own and in these days of unrest to ally yourself with the forces that make for good.
One of the easiest things to own is one of our Mortgage Certificates. They are shares in first mortgages on New York City real estate and payment of principal and interest is guaranteed by the Bond & Mortgage Guarantee Company.
They can be bought at any of our offices and the interest rate to you is 5%.

EDITORIAL

1919-1920

The RECORD AND GUIDE was not among those a year ago having premonitions of a disastrous period to succeed the years of war. This publication continuously and consistently maintained that the American people were sufficiently resourceful and energetic to be able to cope successfully with the undoubtedly serious problems that confronted them after the signatures had been affixed to the armistice.

The sudden and almost violent change from war to peace conditions in itself occasioned disturbance and perplexity. There was a widespread and understandable demand that we get back to a pre-war status with the least delay possible, which resulted in wrenching the machinery of government and confusing business procedure. There were the not-always-temperate pronouncements of the leaders of organized labor that the advancement achieved in wages and in a shorter working day should not be wrested from them. There were the staggering debts of the nation, the almost strangling taxes, the scrapping of capital tied up in war activities, the constantly increasing cost of living, the depletion of man power through war losses and decreased immigration and the overwhelmingly chaotic conditions throughout the world everywhere excepting in this land of liberty and plenty, of freedom from enthralling conventions and of a people in the habit of thinking and acting quickly, intelligently and with broad humanity. To this country the whole stricken world turned with outstretched hands pleading to be relieved from the awful incubus of debt; of unfilled graneries; of devastated, defiled and defertilized fields; of demolished cities; of decimated population; of starvation, sickness, mutilation and the stunting wraith of fear; all thrust upon them through the malevolent design of a nation lacking the balance wheel of a true morality but swayed by the evil purpose of world conquest.

This agonized call of our stricken allies has strained the financial resources of this country to near the breaking point; has drawn heavily and to the detriment of our own people upon our supplies of food, clothing and the other necessities of living and will continue to do so for some time to come. The incoming tide of immigration has been dammed back for an uncertain period while Europe levies upon the remainder of its manhood for the rehabilitation of its cities and towns, its shops and factories, its shipping, its farm buildings and its vineyards.

Accordingly the financial and material resources and the human element in the economic organization of the country have been raised to unwonted values and with the demands still made and to be made upon them there seems little doubt that the inflation of the present time will continue for an indefinite period.

These are some of the most weighty affairs that have made the last year one to try the nerve, and prove it of steel, and test the endurance, and find it unbreakable, of the American people. There remains yet to be recalled the insidious, secretive and terrifying onslaught of the Reds upon the most cherished ideals of this land. Not even the threat of the scourge of Bolshevism has frightened capital from the continuance of its mission of providing the sinews of commerce and trade; nor has it forced public officials in high places nor judges upon the nation's or the local benches to temper the enforcement of law; nor has it founded a reign of terror by a series of bombing outrages in a land where men and women and even children are dauntless; and still less has it given strength to labor unionism or been instrumental in securing public approval for labor's demands when in the policy of boring from within the proponents of revolution have tried to seize upon the organizations of workers for the purpose of fomenting chaos and bringing about universal anarchy. The snake of Bolshevism is not dead, but the forked stick of law and order is binding its hissing head down and will soon choke its life out.

If human beings could have foreseen the occurrences of the last year with which all the world has had to contend and with which this country has been especially concerned (because in addition to its own troubles it has been called upon to rectify world-wide evils), there is a possibility that America would not have acquitted itself with such distinction as may be claimed for it at this time. If the worries through which we have passed had been foreknown trouble would have been borrowed to add to the burdens of each day as it came. It is enough to know that each successive difficulty has been met bravely, and, if not overcome, at least has been so handled as to prevent panic and the collapse of government, of commerce, of finance and of social intercourse on a high plane.

It is undeniable that the year has been difficult, probably the most trying one this nation will ever be called upon to pass through. But the RECORD AND GUIDE presents in the news columns of this issue conclusive proof that in the lines of building and of real estate its confidence, expressed so completely at the beginning of the year, has been vindicated and that America will be equal to coping with a crisis of unprecedented intensity and will emerge triumphantly from the period of doubt, uncertainty and inactivity to enter upon a cycle of unexampled activity and prosperity.

Whatever in the last year has been disadvantageous to general business conditions throughout the country has been particularly disquieting and upsetting to both the building industries and real estate investments. These twin enterprises started the year with the greatest handicaps because of the stagnation which had enwrapped them through the necessary attitude of the government towards them during the war period. But from the lowest ebb ever reached in the building and real estate businesses there has been a recovery that is remarkable and epoch making. Activity in these lines is intense throughout the country but it is in the vicinity of New York that the greatest improvement has taken place.

Figures given elsewhere in this issue disclose the immensity of the operations in dollars and in other important details that assure to the period covering the closing months of 1919 lasting prominence in the local realty records. This is most noticeable because nowhere else have such huge transactions been carried out, in spite of drawbacks that were greater here than in the other large cities of the country. Money has been harder to get here because there have been and always are so many and such greater demands for it; the labor unsettlement has been more extreme in New York and the cost of materials is at the highest mark. But all these especially heavy handicaps have been overcome by the intense activity, resourcefulness and unyielding perseverance of the men in the local building industries and in the real estate field.

Business has become so broadly extended and of such huge financial proportions that of its own momentum it cannot fail of continuance along generous and highly profitable lines. There are substantial reasons why the future holds forth good promise.

There is now, as there was not at the beginning of the past year, the settled conviction that there will be no large and consequently disquieting changes in the price level of materials nor in wages of labor. It is assured that even if building is carried on at a much more rapid pace than even its present vigorous advancement it will be long before the insistent demands for offices, tenements, factories, individual houses and other structures will be met. Rents that assure proper returns on realty investments are certain and money is becoming attracted in larger amounts to investment in that form long accredited with being, next to government securities, the most satisfactory and reliable.

The Federal Reserve Bank, which is best qualified to form intelligent opinion, announces that the peak of high prices has been reached. The government proposes reductions in taxes and a reduced national budget. Judge Gary says that the United States Steel Corporation will not advance prices beyond those fixed by the government last spring, although the demand for steel is so great as to tempt independent manufacturers to demand higher prices. Throughout the country there is concerted effort to keep the cost of living from rising. It is the day of money saving sales. It is also the time when the importance of economy and cessation of extravagance is being urged with increasing vigor. Those who felt the need of relaxation from the stern inhibitions of the war period have had their fling and are more apt to listen to the voice of reason.

There are signs that, as during wartime, all hands are prepared to lay aside whatever interferes with concentration of the entire resources and energy of the country upon augmenting production, which is conceded upon all sides to be the most important factor in bringing about a normal state of affairs, but not necessarily upon the prewar basis as to costs and selling prices. That this movement is extending into the political arena indicates how necessary it is felt to be that the good of all must be considered before benefits to the individual or of any class shall be allowed.

There is every reason, then, to feel that 1920 will see greater activity in business generally and especially in those directions in which the readers of this publication are especially interested. Instead of entering upon the New Year in doubt and entertaining fears there is reason for hopefulness and certainty.

Real Estate Board Favors Reorganization of State Government

THE Real Estate Board of New York through its Committee on Legislation and Taxation, has made the following report on the work of the Commission on Retrenchment and Reorganization of State Government and so advised Governor Smith and the Commission:

The important features of the plan for this reorganization of the Government of the State proposed by the New York State Reconstruction Commission are as follows:

The number of elective administrative officers to be reduced to two; the Governor and the Comptroller, and the State Comptroller is to be shorn of many of his present functions, and is to act only as an "independent financial auditor."

It is proposed that the jurisdiction now exercise by the Attorney General, the Secretary of State, the State Treasurer, and the State Engineer and Surveyor shall be transferred to new departments to be controlled by the Governor. These innovations would necessarily require amendments to the State Constitution, and in our opinion there is good reason for each such change, except in the case of the Attorney General, who, we feel, should be continued as an independent elective officer, because he is the legal adviser of the Legislature and the Comptroller, and, therefore, should not be an appointee of the Governor, with whom the legislative or the auditing branch of the State Government may have, at times, differences of opinion. The opinions of the Attorney General have a quasi-judicial authority and they should be enunciated without fear or favor. In a controversy between the Executive and any other branch of the State Government, were the Attorney General a subordinate, obviously his position would be embarrassing to say the least of it. We are heartily in accord, however, with the idea of dispensing with the multiplicity of legal staffs that are now employed by the State. All State Departments should be required to look to the Attorney General, alone, for legal advice and assistance.

A proposed consolidation of all administrative departments, boards, commissions, offices and officers into thirteen departments, with jurisdiction as indicated in the Commission's Report. We feel that this feature of the plan of reorganization of State Government should also be approved. There may be a difference of opinion as to the propriety of lodging in a particular department this, that or the other function, but in th main, the proposed groupings of jurisdictions are logical and workable.

The extension of the term of office of the Governor for four years. This proposal is not approved.

A budget system vesting in the Governor the full responsibility for initiating appropriations. This proposition we feel should be approved. The arguments advanced for it by the Reconstruction Commission appear to be sound and the procedure seems likely to prove efficient.

Nearly six and a half billion feet of lumber were used by the government during the war according to recent figures compiled by R. C. Bryant, Industrial Examiner of the U. S. Forest Service. Of this amount of lumber purchased directly by the various government departments, the army consumption was nearly five and a half billion feet; the navy more than 120 million feet, and during 1918 the consumption of lumber for boat construction by the Emergency Fleet Corporation was nearly eight hundred million feet.

Of the army consumption, about three billion feet were used in structures for cantonments, hospitals, warehouses, etc.

Realty Transactions in 1919 Reached Three Billions

Enormous Buying Movement Followed Armistice and Culminated in Record-Breaking Operations at Close of Year

NOTWITHSTANDING deterrent influences that ordinarily would have effectually prevented any pronounced movement in real estate the aggregate volume of business in 1919 marks the period as one of the most important in the history of the city. Conservative estimates indicate that from $2,500,000,000 to $3,000,000,000 worth of property within the city limits changed hands during the past twelve months. The buying movement, beginning soon after the armistice in November, 1918, gained momentum slowly, and it was not until March and April of 1919 that the long anticipated real estate revival began to manifest itself in the attraction of speculative capital to improved properties.

The outstanding feature of the year was the unprecedented activity of the professional trader who was the first to realize that property in New York City could be bought for less than its present day construction cost. The factor, with the almost prohibitive prices of building material, the unreliability of labor and its steadily mounting costs, and with the natural expansion of the greatest city in America has been directly responsible for the creation of a situation where demand for space of every description is greatly in excess of supply.

Next to the activity of the operator came the remarkable buying movement directed by business firms and institutions towards the acquisition of permanent homes, a condition directly brought about by the shortage of space in their respective localities. There were other important developments that further emphasized the broadening tendencies of the market, practically all of which, however, may be directly traced to the housing shortage and the decline of building, or in other words, the inadequacy of construction to keep pace with increased demands. New York City to-day cannot provide a sufficient number of offices for its business men, factories for its industries, or living quarters for its wage earners. Under these circumstances, it is not surprising to find in the business of the year a number of notable purchases upon which the leading builders of the city expect to capitalize the steadily increasing demand for space of every description.

The ever increasing rentals in apartment houses has effectually solved for the time being and perhaps permanently the problem of the old private house, a type of property which had become a drug on the market as a result of the growing popularity of the apartment. Hundreds of privates houses in all parts of the city have passed into the hands of former tenants.

The same situation has also brought about one of the most successful auction years in history. The investing public absorbed more than 12,000 lots for a total of more than $15,000,000. Although Manhattan and Brooklyn properties held a leading position in the auction field during the year an unusual amount of interest centered upon unimproved holdings in the Bronx, Queens, Westchester, Long Island, New Jersey and the entire Metropolitan district.

In the wake of the great speculative movement came the slow but steady return of investment capital into real estate. As soon as the combination of circumstances which were directly responsible for the interest of the professional trader was brought to the attention of the investor, it was not long before he realized the splendid income producing possibilities of well located improved New York City real estate.

The activity of the operator during 1919 was amazing, many of the largest properties in the city passing into the control of this class of purchaser.

Frederick Brown, Robert E. Simon, Max N. Natanson, Elias A. Cohen and others were leaders in the operating field. Mr. Brown bought and resold millions of dollars worth of property in every section of the city, reaching the pinnacle of his endeavor in the purchase for about $4,500,000 of the Hendrik Hudson apartments, and Annex and the Arena building at 38-40 West 32d street. Mr. Brown also bought the Hotel Majestic held at $3,000,000, the Crystal Building at 40-46 West 20th street and the 12-story United Cigar stores building, 44 West 18th street in addition to hundreds of other commercial buildings and apartment houses.

Robert E. Simon figured in several of the largest deals of the year, among them the deal whereby he acquired from Vincent Astor the Putnam Building and the Westover Court which he later resold to the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation; also the Fulton Building at Fulton and Nassau streets and others. Elias A. Cohen, after extensive operating on John street and Maiden Lane, set a new record in his activity by buying the United States Express Company building at 2 Rector street.

Max N. Natanson's contribution to the huge deals of the year was the transaction in which he acquired the Columbia Trust Company Building at the northwest corner of Fifth avenue and 34th street to which he will add 9 stories. Mr. Natanson also bought the Ashland Building at 315 Fourth avenue, the Langham apartment house on Central Park West and the 16 story loft building at the northwest corner of Fourth avenue and 29th street among other big transactions.

Harris and Maurice Mandelbaum, Joseph Shenk, Daniel H. Jackson, Fisher and Irving Lewine, S. Morrill Banner, Wm. L. Levy, Norman S. Reisenfeld, Foote & Martin, Harry Aronson, Benjamin Benenson, Isaac Portman, James H. Cruikshank, Michael Kaufman, Daniel B. Freedman, Morris Morgenstern, Joseph G. Abramson and S. Berman are only a few of the men who dominated the speculative buying movement of the year.

Commercial buildings innumerable, in all parts of the city changed hands and were permanently taken out of the market because they will be occupied by business men and institutions. Space limits cannot permit of any orderly array of transactions that will adequately indicate the tremendous volume of business transacted in this field. When firms like the United States Steel Corporation buy the Empire Building, held at $5,000,000, the Sinclair Oil and Refining Corporation buys the 32-story Liberty Tower, Gimbel Brothers buy their 10-story department store assessed at $6,630,000, the Union Carbide Company buys No. 30 East 42d street assessed at $3,000,000 and the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation buys the New York Theatre Building occupying the block front on Broadway from 44th and 45th streets in addition to previously taking over the Putnam Building and Westover Court, the immensity of the buying movement by firms and institutions is indicated.

Mention must be made, however, of the tremendous activity at the lower end of Manhattan Island where such firms and institutions as Norton Lilly & Company, Wilcox, Peck & Hughes, Royal Bank of Canada, Canadian Bank of Commerce, Seaboard National Bank, Munson Steamship Company, Frank

A. Munsey, American Surety Company, Bank of the Manhattan Company, the Bank of America, the International Mercantile Marine, and the White Oil Company took over valuable properties for their own occupancy.

All this activity epitomized the strength of downtown realty in the face of the tremendous uptown movement which began with the opening of the subways in 1904 and which grew to such an extent that it for some time seemed to seriously menace the continued prosperity of the downtown district. In addition to the array of the notable transactions mentioned above no better indication of the stability and permanent strength of the downtown sections can be presented than the deal whereby the Federal Reserve Bank took over an entire block front bounded by Liberty street, Nassau street, Maiden Lane and William street, and the deal whereby the Stock Exchange purchased adjoining property including the Wilkes Building, to meet its increased needs.

The high cost of building materials and labor and other factors tended to restrict the building market but nevertheless a number of important structural operations were undertaken which involved some of the biggest deals of the year affecting both business and residential projects. George Backer plans two building operations along Fifth avenue which will cost in their entirety close to $15,000,000. He will build a 30-story office, store, apartment and theatre building at the southeast corner of Fifth avenue between 30th and 31st streets for the use of the silk and woolen trades. James T. Lee and Harold S. Ley are building an 18-story loft and office building at 23-31 West 43d street. The Pictorial Review Company is erecting a new structure at the southwest corner of Seventh avenue and 39th street. Edward Margolies bought 309-11 Fifth avenue for a big mercantile project; a syndicate of western bankers acquired 152-8 Broadway and adjoining leasehold property as a site for an office building; Fred F. French Company plans a 16-story office building on the site acquired at the northwest corner of Madison avenue and 41st street and the old Milbank taxpayer at the northwest corner of Madison avenue and 42d street has been leased to the Liggett-Winchester-Ley Realty Corporation for improvement with a 20-story building. This deal will involve in its entirety close to $10,000,000.

Huge residential projects also figured in the building plans of the year. A syndicate of financeers leased New York Central Railroad property on the west side of Park evenue from 49th to 50th streets on which a 16 story apartment hotel is to be built at a cost of $4,000,00. Part of this space will be ocupied by Sherry's. The D. M. Linnard Company bought the block front on the east side of Park avenue between 51st and 52d streets as the site for a 17-story hotel. Sheriff David H. Knott acquired the Rutgers Presbyterian Church site at the southwest corner of Broadway and 73d street on which he will erect a 14-story hotel. A number of other apartment projects will follow the acquisition of desirable building plots on the west side. In the Bronx 658 lots in the Mace estate were bought from the receivers of the American Real Estate Company by the Mace Estate Building Corporation which has begun the erection of the first group of 658 one family houses. This project will involve in its entirety close to $6,000,000.

Mention must be made of the notable array of investment transactions. The biggest individual transaction of the year and one of the biggest ever closed in this city was the sale of the City Investing Building at 165 Broadway which passed into the hands of a Russian banker who paid cash above a mortgage of $5,600,000 for the property. Among the other notable investment deals was the sale whereby the DuPont interests acquired the Hotel Martinique at the reported price of $5,000,000, the sale of all the down-town property of Robert A. Chesebrough to Henry L. Doherty & Co., who also bought a Battery Place block front upon which they plan another skyscraper operation. The City Investing Company bought from Captain John Jacob Astor, the office building at 52 Broadway.

The amazing amount of business transacted during the year must be regarded with even greater significance in view of the condition of the mortgage market where improvement has not come as rapidly as might be desired. Real estate men have become reconciled to the high interest rates and the conservative policy adopted by the loaning institutions. The growing popularity of the amortization plan, however, is expected to eventually settle the mortgage question. In the meantime, 6 per cent. continues to be the rate, although some 5½ per cent. and 5 per cent. money has been available for unusually conservative loans. The outstanding feature of the entire mortgage situation of the year was the keen competition which mortgage money suffered from municipal bonds favored by exemtpion from Federal income taxes, the bonds of our Allies yielding high rates of interest, railroad bonds which depressed in price, but were tempting because of the low prices and new industrial stocks offering high returns. It is gratifiying to note, however, in the mortgage business of the year, that the guaranteed mortgage held its own in spite of the acid test that was applied to it during the war period and the reconstruction period which has now set in. The weakness of the mortgage situation, however, is traceable to the fact that trustees of large estates and other heavy investors in mortgages cannot afford longer to keep their investments in this field even at a 6 per cent. rate on account of the heavy income tax and many of these have been driven to invest their money in tax exempt securities in order to get a larger net return. This situation has been largely responsible for the introduction of the Calder-McLaughlin bill in Congress which proposes to exempt from income tax the interest on real estate mortgages up to the value of $40,000.

It is interesting to note in connection with the possible effect of heavy income taxes upon returns from real estate that some of the largest owners in New York City have been disposing of a number of their properties. John Jacob Astor, Vincent Astor, Trinity Church Corporation and other possessors of long held properties have liquidated a number of valuable income producing properties. Whether the continued pressure of Federal income taxes will result in further selling during 1920 remains a topic of considerable discussion among real estate men.

Other interesting and important developments occurred during the year having a direct effect on the real estate market. The tax record for 1919 Legislature, despite the enactment of the state income tax which is expected to provide a large income for the State, may be regarded as decidedly unsatisfactory. None of the measures specially designed to relieve New York City's taxpayers from their excessive burdens suceeeded in passage and even the increased income resulting from the collection of the income taxes is not expected to provide material relief because practically all of these monies will have to be devoted to meet the increased expense of operating various State departments. The Joint Legislative Committee on Taxation succeeded only in obtaining the adoption of this State income tax measure and the amendment of the "Franchise Tax on Manufacturing" to the "Franchise tax on Business Corporation," which yielded an additional income of more than $5,000,000 a year to the state.

Closing days of the year brought the announcement that the Save New York City Committee had definitely achieved its aim, namely, the removal of the menace of the garment trades from Fifth avenue. As the culmination of efforts extending over a period of years the Committee announced that a group of cloak and suit manufacturers plan the wholesale removal of the needle trades industry from Fifth avenue and the adjacent streets into a new center to be built in the Seventh avenue section. The effect of this announcement has already become apparent in the undertaking of large structural operations in both the Fifth and Seventh avenue sections. The position of the former thoroughfare as the leading shopping district in the United States becomes more secure and real estate men see in the Seventh avenue zone the logical location for another business and industrial community similar to the one which gained for Madison avenue its present prestige.

Charges of rent profiteering reached their height during the year in various investigations conducted by State, City and Civic bodies, which resulted finally in the adoption at a special session of the Legislature of four measures designed to relieve the situation. It became patent, however, early in the year that the present shortage of space in this city could not be relieved by the passage of legislation and that as long as the supply exceeded the demand there would continue to be an upward movement of rents. The various investigations into the charges of rent profiteering revealed that the great bulk of property owners were not profiteering, but that the most of the trouble was caused by a group of irresponsible "leasters" who were able to capitalize the existing situation. The Board of Aldermen in an effort to reach this class of property holder passed several weeks ago a licensing measure which is expected to materially decrease the amount of vicious practices for which these "leasters" have been responsible.

Enactment of the Prohibition law placed several thousands of stores on the market which in normal times might have resulted in serious losses to realty owners. In view of the existing shortage of space, however, practically all of these locations in the more centrally located neighborhoods have been absorbed. The future of former saloon properties in quieter residential sections and in the outlying districts still remains in doubt.

Rapid transit construction work which in the past has been so closely allied with real estate development progressed steadily during 1919. The work advanced materially in the face of mounting costs and other deterrents.

A total of 85.13 miles of track was completed and placed in service during the year. Indications now are that 51 additional miles of track will be completed and open for traffic during 1920. Most of this increased mileage will be on lines of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company and will be available for passenger traffic by mid-summer unless labor troubles become more acute and force suspension of construction work. This means that the total city-owned trackage of the two transit systems, which was 164.99 miles one year ago and is 200.12 miles today, will be increased to 251.21 miles at the end of 1920. The boroughs of Brooklyn and Queens will receive the benefits of the new increased transit facilities, although the Borough of Bronx is expected to see the opening of some new extensions about July 15.

Despite the remarkable record of 1919 it is being freely predicted that 1920 will witness even a greater market. Property is fully rented in practically all sections of the city and real estate is bringing to the owner the greatest returns in the history of the city There does not seem to be any indication that the building program for 1920, no matter how extensive, will affect the available amount of space seriously enough to effect a reduction in rents. As long as this condition exists, speculative and investment capital must continue to flow into real estate which in its present status will offer a beter return than any other form of investment. The prediction is made that the market for 1920 will continue substantially along the same lines, only on a much broader scale. As long as New York City continues to be the richest and most progressive city in America, the Nation's financial, industrial and commercial centre, the intrinsic value of its real estate will not suffer. It is expected, however, that one of the outstanding features of the 1920 market will be the unusual interest in vacant land because the real relief from the housing shortage can only come from the erection of additional buildings. Shrewd market observers claim that there will be a boom in lots next year equally as spectacular as the activity in improved properties in 1919. The well being of the real estate market during 1920 may be considerably dependent upon the adjustment of mortgage conditions. Considerable interest is expected to focus upon the Calder-McLaughlin bill now pending in Congress, which has already been mentioned, and upon the plan of the Advisory Council of Real Estate interests which will demand of the Legislature of Albany limitation of taxation on real property to 60 per cent. of the total annual tax levy.

There is no indication that the Real Estate Board of New York will urge upon the Legislature the adoption of a tax limitation law, similar to the one which was vetoed last year by Mayor Hylan after it had been passed during the closing hours of the legislative session. The Board will urge, however, simplification of City and State governmental agencies. It has approved almost in its entirety the report of the State Commission on Reorganization and Retrenchment.

Equity in Real Estate Holdings Should Be Conservative

Injudicious Spreading Out of Operations on Limited Capital Has Wrecked Many Realtors, Says Robert E. Simon

By ROBERT E. SIMON

THE activities of the professional real estate dealers during the year 1919 has been most pyrotechnical and interesting. In the days gone by we had three classes to deal with: the operator, the broker and the investor. Today, owing to conditions of the market, there is a seething pot in which all of these classes have become so mixed and interlocked, that it is difficult at times to separate them.

The operators are divided into three classes: first, the trader, or sometimes called the speculator. He is something like the floor trader in the stock exchange; he signs innumerable contracts, in the aggregate far beyond his means to complete with the knowledge that long before the day of taking title arrives he will have disposed of most, if not all, of his contracts. In order to be sure of accomplishing this, he has been, as a rule, more interested in the terms of the purchase than in the price. A small amount of cash, a satisfactory first and second mortgage made it almost a certainty that some one would offer him a profit, if for no other reason than that the property must be worth something more than had been paid for it; in other words, purchasing on the judgment of the speculator. The amount of profit taken is in no degree a measure of the risk entailed; in many cases the speculator has made little more than the broker who re-sells the property. This activity has added materially to the life of the market.

The second class is the operator who only enters into contracts for as much as he can surely complete, whether or not he disposes of his contract before the day of taking title, and he, while looking to terms, as well as the speculator, has in mind, however, the ultimate income of the property, even though in the course of time there should be a recession from these present high rents, and he is prepared to take title and hold the property if he is unable to dispose of it.

The third class are operators who, because of their reputation as keen judges of real estate values, have been able, in addition to their own resources, been able to command through syndicates and corporations a large amount of capital, and owing to the excessive profit taxes, do not find it profitable to dispose of their properties at this time, and have therefore, for the time being, become investors. Many of the brokers have joined hands with some of the speculators and operators and have taken share interests in the properties which they have sold, and find it very difficult to draw the line between the strict brokerage business and that of an operator.

To the class of speculator and operator who make real estate their sole business, have been added a very large number of merchants and professional men who have entered the field, encouraged by the profits which they have seen made. Up to the present time the increase in prices has been absolutely justified. For the past seven or eight years the real estate business has been exceedingly dull and property values had been going downward. When the turn in conditions, after the signing of the armistice, began, buildings were sold for less than the cost of production when labor and building material were at their lowest, and the rents paid were not sufficient to show an adequate return upon a fair valuation of the properties, was possible therefore to sell and re-sell these several times, each re-sale at a profit, and to increase rents from time to time without paying prices beyond what they rightfully ought to be. The memory of most people is very short and the tenants and the public in general forget the merry time they enjoyed at the expense of the landlords of this city, when real estate was a losing proposition, and when because of general conditions and over supply, the landlord was at the mercy of the tenant. They forget the days of three to six months rent free, moving expenses paid, free buses to the nearest subway stations, etc., and many of the tenants who were ruthless in their demands upon the landlord in those days are complaining most bitterly now that they are being required to pay an adequate rent.

The trend of values in real estate has been in rents and values from abnormally low to normal, while the expenses of management and maintenance have been going from normal to abnormal. If an audit were made of the books of the large real estate owning corporations it would show that during the period preceding the war there was a continuous writing down of values in order to show some return on the capital, and that at the present time, with rentals as they are, bitter as the complaint may be, the average building throughout the greater city is not returning more on the original cost of production than is returned to capital invested in other forms of business and enterprise. In making this statement I do not refer to the net income received in many cases on an equity based on a very small margin. The man who derives a large return on an equity behind a first, second and sometimes a third mortgage, is taking a risk which warrants the return, but because such a so-called investor is able to get a large return on his risky form of investment by jeopardizing his equity in placing it behind so large an indebtedness, is no reason why this should be taken as the basis of return on real estate owned as it should be, preferably free and clear, if it is an investment, or at least subject to a moderate first mortgage, a safe percentage on the actual value of the property. One need but look over the foreclosure proceedings of the past years to see a vast wreckage of capital and an army of individuals who lost their savings because they tried to own a number of buildings with the same amount of money which should have been placed in one. In this respect real estate is no different than the stock market. The investor who pays for his securities, who chooses them wisely and places them in his vault, need not be concerned with the ups and downs of the daily quotations, but the man who desires to spread his fortune out thin, and to gamble on a margin, while his profits at times may seem large, must ultimately take the chance of seeing them all wiped out in some unexpected panic or recession.

We are undoubtedly on a new level of prices. Real estate purchased on a basis of a fair valuation for land and cost of construction is bound to be a safe permanent investment. While rents may some day come down, it will be some time before that can occur, as it is mainly a question of production. Those who build at present prices of material cannot afford to rent at less than the present scale of rentals, and it will take a number of years before material and labor, if ever, can come down far enough to make a substantial reduction in the cost of building.

State corporation taxes yielded $5,000,000 more during the last fiscal year than the year before. The total, according to a statement made public by Controller Travis was approximately $33,500,000, a record sum. More than 40,000 business organizations contributed to the total, against 32,000 during 1918, and collections were made at a cost of six-tenths of 1 per cent.

The so-called franchise tax returned $13,551,523—a gain of $1,061,941. Of this amount $3,029,631 came from insurance premiums, against $2,005,366 in 1918. Trust companies, contributed $2,911,474, or $132,801 more than last year. Earnings from lighting, power, water, etc., netted $1,184,017, against $1,095,087. Transportation receipts showed a falling off of $2,442,471, against $2,699,429, as did savings banks, $1,337,960, against $1,455,433. Of the total realized the state will retain about $27,000,000, the rest being prorated among the various counties.

Review of Real Estate Market for the Current Week

Business Is Rather Limited With Interest Centering Upon Downtown Business Buildings and Uptown Apartment Houses

THE closing days of the year brought with them a slight decline in the volume of trading, business concerning itself chiefly with small income producing properties of various types. Several business men acquired valuable downtown properties to insure permanent location in their respective neighborhoods. Hanan & Brother, shoe retailers, bought the property at 187 Broadway, and Samuel Kaplan, jeweler, a tenant in 64-68 Fulton street, acquired the fee to that property.

Professional activity was a prominent feature of the business, Frederick Brown especially contributing a number of important transactions. Mr. Brown, who achieved such distinction during the year as probably the most active operator in the field, closed the biggest year of his career by buying more high class income producing apartment houses on the west side. Speculative interest also centered upon one of the Benjamin N. Duke properties, the Sarsfield apartment house at Broadway and 123d street, and upon other properties of a similar character in other parts of the city. Bing & Bing added to their holdings the 9-story apartment house at 58 Central Park West and the 12-story office building at 39 Cortlandt street.

Two important building projects were also featured in the business of the week. The Paternos acquired a valuable Drive corner at 148th street on which they will erect a high grade multi-family structure. A row of dwellings in West 38th street between 7th and 8th avenues was sold and the site will be utilized for the construction of a commercial building to house more firms in the needle trades.

Despite the rather limited amount of trading, rumors were current that another notable group of transactions would shortly be announced which will usher in the business of 1920 in a befitting way.

PRIVATE REALTY SALES.

THE total number of sales reported but not recorded in Manhattan this week was 134 as against 142 last week and 39 a year ago.

The number of sales south of 59th street was 48 as compared with 68 last week and 18 a year ago.

The number of sales north of 59th street was 86 as compared with 74 last week and 16 a year ago.

From the Bronx 68 sales at private contract were reported as against 60 last week and 16 a year ago.

Statistical tables, indicating the number of recorded instruments, will be found on page 20 of this issue.

Hanan Buys 187 Broadway.

Hanan & Son, shoe merchants, figured in a $500,000 real estate transaction when they bought 187 Broadway from the Broadway-John Street Corporation, Elias A. Cohen, president. Hanan & Son are being forced out of their present offices by the erection of the new telephone building on the block above. The property was formerly owner by Edward F. Searles, who sold it to the Broadway-John Street Corporation recently. The property forms an L around the Waterman Building at the southwest corner of Broadway and Dey street and consists of a 4-story building on Broadway, 25.6x100, and on Dey street a vacant parcel measuring 52.8x91.2. The property is opposite the new American Telegraph and Telephone Building. The site is one of the most attractive in the section. Brodsky, attorney, which has recently made a number of important purchases, including the 11-story Martin Building at Broadway and 31st street and Sixth avenue. The building will be ready for occupancy about May 1. M. & L. Hess were the brokers in the transaction.

Phillips & Co. It has been owned by the selling estate since 1887 when it erected the building. The transaction was closed by wireless messages and cablegrams with Mr. Day, who has just returned from Europe. Cross & Brown sold for the Taylor estate to Bing & Bing, Georgean Court, a nine-story apartment, 100x125, at 58 Central Park West, southwest corner of 66th street. It is understood the purchasers will convert the present large apartments into smaller suites. The property is assessed at $525,000.

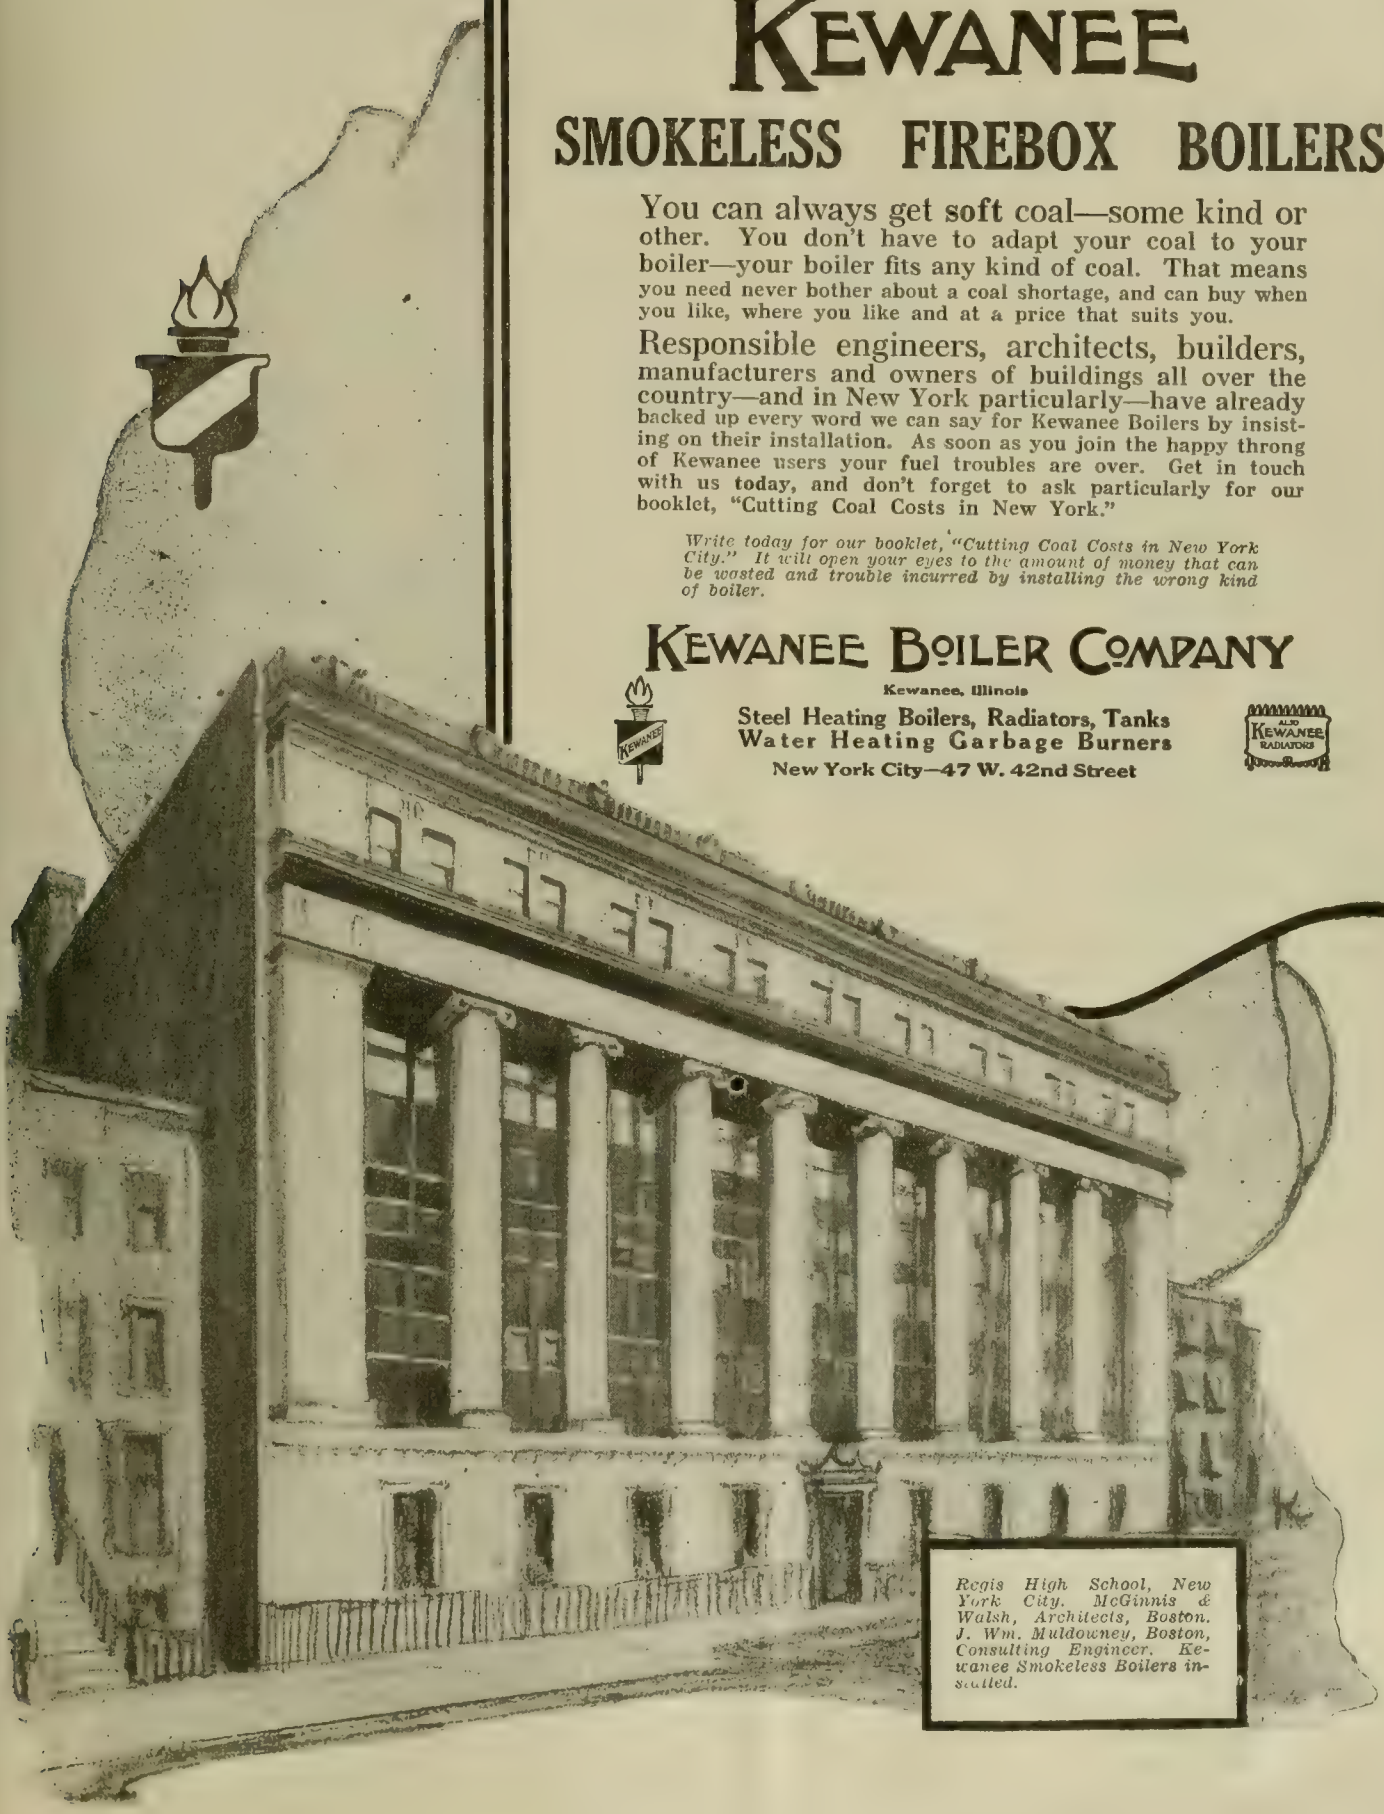
Responsible engineers, architects, builders, manufacturers and owners of buildings all over the country—and in New York particularly—have already backed up every word we can say for Kewanee Boilers by insisting on their installation. As soon as you join the happy throng of Kewanee users your fuel troubles are over. Get in touch with us today, and don't forget to ask particularly for our booklet, "Cutting Coal Costs in New York."



Write today for our booklet, "Cutting Coal Costs in New York City." It will open your eyes to the amount of money that can be wasted and trouble incurred by installing the wrong kind of boiler.

RECENT LEASES.

Another Park Avenue Project.

A syndicate, headed by Walter Russell, who has built several co-operative apartment houses on the upper west side, has secured, through Douglas L. Elliman & Co., an option for a lease of sixty-three years of the entire block bounded by Park and Vanderbilt avenues, Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth streets, from the New York Central Railroad Company. Upon the site Fred T. Ley & Co. will erect a sixteen-story modern apartment house with hotel features. The ground floor will contain a large restaurant, which will be operated by a prominent restaurateur, and service from this restaurant will be furnished to all the apartments in the building. The architects, Warren & Wetmore, have been in consultation with Mr. Russell, Fred T. Ley & Co., Inc., and the prospective owners for some months and have produced a design which brings into consideration the difficult problems of the times, such as the servant problem and the service problem.

One of the unique features of the proposition is that the building will not carry any mortgages. It is to be paid for all in cash by the subscribers, who will live in two-thirds of the building and rent the other third, which other third will give an income of about $270,000 a year. This $270,000 is more than the running expenses, therefore, the owners will be able to live in their apartments for the interest on their investment, reducing their rent to about one-third of the schedule rental. Work will commence as soon as Mr. Russell completes his group of co-operative owners, which will be within the next thirty days. This operation is directly south of the New Sherry Building and opposite the Hotel Chatham and 270 Park avenue. Occupying, as it does, an entire block, it will have unusual light facilities on four sides, with ample courts. The rent for the first twenty-one years will be approximately $2,000,000 and the cost of the building $4,000,000, making a total involved in the operation of $6,000,000.

Big Insurance Leases.

Three large insurance companies, with assets aggregating about $175,000,000, are the contracting principals in a lease negotiated by the Charles F. Noyes Company with the Phelps Stokes estate for five floors of the Woodbridge Building, William, John and Platt streets. This space, totaling 75,000 square feet, in addition to all the ground floor space on the John street side of the building, was taken under a twenty-one-year lease by the Aetna Life Insurance Company, the Aetna Casualty & Surety Company and the Automobile Insurace Company of Hartford. The leasing companies now occupy scattered space in the Woodbridge Building, the Wyllys Building and other neighborhood structures. The space which they have just leased is tenanted by the Hardford Fire Insurance Company, Maiden Lane Branch of the Metropolitan Bank, the Norwich Union Insurance Agency and Howard & Cain, Inc.

"Nevada" Is Sub-Leased.

Walter J. Salmon subleased from the Nevada Realty Company, Clarke G. Dailey, president, the Nevada apartment, a seven-story structure, occupying the trapezoid plot bounded by Broadway, Amsterdam avenue, 69th and 70th streets, measures 225.8x138x200.10x35.8 feet, about seven lots. Albert W. Pease was the broker. The lease is for thirteen years, from February 1, with two twenty-one year renewals. The building faces Sherman square, and is located adjacent to the principal transit lines. The Curtiss Securities Company, Curtiss James, president, is the owner of the fee. The original lease was executed about eight years ago when the Alliance Realty Company sold the property to the Curtiss Company.

$500,000 Store Lease.

White-Goodwin and Louis F. Sommer leased the store at the northeast corner of 51st street and Broadway for a long term of years at an aggregate rental of $500,000 to Marks Arnheim, Inc., retail clothiers. This building is diagonally opposite the new Capital Theatre and was originally occupied for many years by the Healy Carriage Company. It was recently leased to the Van Dam Company for a long term of years, who, in turn, leased the entire store floor to the Wira Realty Company. Extensive alterations have been made to the entire property. The Roseland, a Philadelphia syndicate, leased the entire second floor for dancing purposes and are making alterations. After extensive alterations to the corner store, the Arnheim concern will take possession about February 2, 1920.

Plan Park Avenue Alteration.

Pease & Elliman leased 957 Park avenue, southeast corner of 82d street, for W. Emlen Roosevelt to Senior & Allan for twenty-one years at an aggregate rental of $300,000. It will be converted into four-room apartments and managed by Pease & Elliman.

REAL ESTATE NOTES.

WILLIAM W. JONES, formerly with Carstein & Linniken, is now associated with the real estate office of Samuel J. Tankoos.

AMERICAN TRUST CO., which commenced business less than a year ago, on January 27, 1919, reports that its deposits are now more than $10,000,000.

WILLIAM CONSTABLE and Kenneth L. Fleming, Jr., have formed the firm of Constable & Fleming, with offices at 71 Broadway, to conduct a general brokerage business.

WILLIAM A. COKELEY announces his retirement as chief of the real estate division of the Department of Finance, City of New York, to resume his work in the real estate field as appraiser and expert.

CHARLES S. KOHLER (INC.) placed through the Lawyers Mortgage Co. a first mortgage of $45,000 on 209 Wadsworth av; and through the New York Title Co. a first mortgage of $6,000 on 122 Manhattan av.

ALBERT FRANK & CO., advertising agents, located at 26 Beaver st. since 1910, purchased the 4-sty building at 14 Stone st. Pease & Elliman and Wm. A. White & Sons were associated as brokers. The new owners intend to remodel the present structure by adding two floors and installing a marble front.

S. OSGOOD PELL & CO., represented by John Otto, vice-president, were the brokers in the $3,000,000 merger of twelve warehouses recently reported. The same brokers also secured for the new concern leases of twenty-one years on each warehouse taken over. Samuel Weil is the owner of several of the buildings. The Messrs. Oatman, of the Mercantile Warehouse Co., will continue their broom corn business.

PEASE & ELLIMAN deny the recent rumors and statements which have been appearing that they have sold their property 340 Madison av., between 43d and 44th sts., to either the Fifth Church of Christ, Scientist, or the Madison Offices, Inc. The property has not been sold and is not offered for sale at any price. Pease & Elliman expect to occupy their building for many years to come on account of the very desirable location.

New Board of Appeals Secretary.

James A. McMahon has been appointed secretary of the Board of Standards and Appeals and Board of Appeals to succeed William Wirt Mills. Mr. McMahon, who assumed his new duties yesterday, was formerly an examiner in the office of the President of the Board of Aldermen. Mr. Mills has become Deputy Commissioner of Plant and Structure, a new position created in the 1920 Budget. He will have charge of all the municipally operated ferries.

Mr. Mills, who is vice-president of the Staten Island Civic League, has been for many years actively interested in civic and real estate matters in the Borough of Richmond. He was city editor and chief editorial writer of the Evening Mail from 1900 to 1915 when he became chief examiner in the office of Commissioner of Accounts Leonard M. Walstein. It was while he held this position that he organized the fight against the location of the garbage plant on Staten Island. His opposition to this project against the wishes of the Mitchel administration became so strong that he was requested to resign, which he did. Mr. Mills became secretary of the Board of Appeals in March, 1918. He was a member of the District Board of the City of New York during the entire period under which the draft law operated.

Joseph P. Day in New Home.

Coincident with the twenty-fifth anniversary of his engaging in the real estate business Joseph P. Day on Monday moved his executive offices from 31 Nassau street, where he has been for the past twenty years, to the building he has erected at 67 Liberty street, for the exclusive use of his growing business. The building, which is five stories, with basement and subbasement, has a facade of limestone and adjourns the Chamber of Commerce. It is opposite the Guaranty Trust Building. John H. Scheier, architect, designed the new building. In planning the distribution of the various departments throughout the building Mr. Day has arranged his own personal office on the ground floor, where he will be readily accessible to his clients.

Mr. Day, following his unusually successful season, has distributed bonuses ranging from ten to twenty-five per cent of their yearly salaries among his employes, in appreciation of their co-operation.

Queensboro Dinner on January 17.

Stabilization of business will be the keynote of the ninth annual dinner of the Chamber of Commerce of Queens, to be held on Saturday evening, January 17, at the Hotel Commodore. Senator George E. Chamberlain, of Oregon, former governor of that state, chairman of the Senate committee on military affairs during the war, will be the guest of honor and principal speaker. His subject will be post-war problems and the stabilization of business. Sherman Rogers will talk on "The Industrial Crisis."

The dinner committee consists of George H. Willcockson, chairman; Arthur C. Hartich, Philip Brewster, Harry L. Dayton, John M. Demarest, John I. Dogherty, E. W. Hawley, Burt Jay Humphrey, Richard S. Newcombe, John H. Penchoen, F. A. Rowley, Maynard Spear, E. J. Tarof and William T. Yale.

Auctioneers Elect Officers.

James L. Wells was elected president of the Real Estate Auctioneers' Association for the year 1920 at the annual meeting of the association held last week. William F. Redmond was elected vice president and Henry Brady, secretary. The Executive Committee will consist of Joseph P. Day, Samuel Goldsticker, Bryan L. Kennelly, L. J. Phillips, J. Clarence Davies and Henry Brady. A committee of three was appointed "to take such legal action or otherwise to further an agreement so that the real estate and all other interests of the city shall not be endangered by the stoppage, disintegration or dissolution of the transit systems."

New Real Estate Firm.

Louis Starr, member of the real estate firm of Leitner, Brener & Starr, Inc., has become associated with Ralph L. Spotts, under the corporate name of Spotts & Starr. They will conduct a general real estate brokerage, insurance and management business, with offices at 50 East 42d street. Nathan Wilson, also formerly with Leitner, Brener & Starr, has become associated with the new firm.

Deal Obtains Court Sanction.

Justice Samuel Greenbaum of the Supreme Court has granted permission for the sale by the Fifth Church of Christ Scientist to the Madison Offices, Inc., of the property at the southwest corner of Madison avenue and 43d street, and the construction thereon of a modern office building, wherein the church is to have a ninety-nine-year lease of quarters at $1 a year. It provides for the sale of the property to the Madison Offices, Inc., under contract with that corporation and the W. J. Taylor Company, for $1,136,365, $100,000 to be paid in cash and the balance by short-term mortgage. Within one year the members are to purchase, or to bring about the purchase, of $2,000,000 in bonds, secured by the corporation's mortgage on the property, thus providing funds with which to assure the completion of the proposed office building, which will be erected at a cost of $3,500,000. The Madison Offices, Inc., will, it is understood, be virtually a holding corporation for the Fifth Church.

Raised $10,500 for Actors' Fund.

Bryan L. Kennelly, as Chairman of the Real Estate Division of the Actors' National Memorial Day Drive, reports that his division raised about $10,500. Among the principal subscribers were Daniel Guggenheim, William A. White & Sons, Pease & Elliman, J. Clarence Davies, Horace S. Ely & Co., George R. Read, A. A. Hegeman, Cornelius G. Kolff, Wood, Dolson & Co., Frederick Zittel & Sons, R. J. Caldwell, Frederick A. Fox, Goodwin & Goodwin and Bryan L. Kennelly.

Commend Fire Protection Bureau.

After John H. Scheier, consulting architect of the Real Estate Owners' Protective Association, called attention, at a recent meeting, to the high standard of efficiency attained by the Bureau of Fire Prevention of which Dr. William F. Doyle is the chief, the association adopted a resolution expressing their warm commendation of Dr. Doyle's administration. Copies of the resolution were submitted to Mayor Hylan and to Dr. Doyle.

BUILDING SECTION

Building Record of 1919 Surpasses All Previous Years

Notwithstanding Slow Start the Period Passes Into History As One of Unusual Structural Activity

A YEAR opening with grave doubts and misgivings as to the general economic developments to follow, and for which the building outlook gave promise of anything but prosperity, has now closed with a record that justifies the prophecies of the most optimistic of those who forecast the possibilities and probabilities of the first year after the signing of the armistice. Throughout the country the building industry has manifested a praiseworthy stability and ability to readjust itself to new conditions. It is probable that the progressive improvement in structural activity during the last twelve months will continue during the coming year with increasing strength now that many retardant factors have been eliminated.

There have been so many features of outstanding prominence during the period in review that it is a difficult problem to critically analyze it and divide it into its logical stages of development. But it is undeniable that marked progress has been made, that present conditions are favorable and that steady growth and improvement during 1920 are almost inevitable.

When the conditions in the industry as they existed at the cessation of hostilities are compared with those at the close of 1919 it is possible to measure the accomplishment of the past twelve months. When the armistice was signed the building industry, formerly considered one of the bulwarks of the national industrial economic fabric, was to all intents and purposes a minus quantity. Private construction had fallen off to a point where it was almost negligible. The World War seriously curtailed this type of activity and from the summer of 1914 there had been a gradual reduction in the volume of building. The only phase of activity that moved to any extent was a sporadic industrial progress resultant from the large munition orders placed in the United States by European belligerents. By the time this country entered the conflict, building for private needs had practically ceased and the number of important active operations was small indeed. At this time the Federal Government practically commandeered the building industry by means of its immense contracts for the construction of cantonments, base hospitals, flying fields, barracks, training camps, additions to navy yards and forts, and the hundreds of other structural projects that were hurriedly required for the maintenance of a greater military establishment than the United States had ever contemplated in the past. By the time the armistice was signed, however, a large percentage of this construction had been completed and the remainder was subsequently abandoned, so that during the period between the armistice and the beginning of 1919 the industry was substantially without work.

During the latter part of the war private building operations were prevented by Federal restrictions imposed to conserve men and materials for the needs of the army. During this period building projects that were absolutely essential to the conduct of the war or the health and safety of the people were the only types of work permitted and many jobs were forced into abeyance that otherwise might have gone ahead and which would have afforded some measure of relief to the stagnated industry.

Meanwhile there had been a steadily growing demand for buildings of every type and description. This demand centered chiefly upon the supply of housing for the rapidly increasing population and was very pronounced in the thickly populated urban centers and in industrial districts in which were located some of the largest Government plants and firms having contracts for the supply of war munitions under direct Government contracts. The demand for other structures, for manufacturing and commercial facilities, community buildings of various kinds, etc., was also keenly felt but there were neither men nor materials immediately available and the building industry was so thoroughly demoralized that no definite plans could be formulated for the supply of the urgent building requirements.

This marks the condition of the building industry at the commencement of 1919, but when it is compared with the peaceful and flourishing condition that maintains at present, the comparison makes possible the prediction that 1920 will be one of the brilliant spots in building history.

Tangible evidence of the extent of the 1919 building movement is possible through the figures of the F. W. Dodge Company which show that during the year just closed a total of $529,900,000 was involved in contracts awarded for new building and engineering projects in New York State and New Jersey, north of Trenton, as compared with $256,979,000 for the same territory in 1918. The average annual amount of contracts awarded for the same territory during the five years previous to 1919 was $234,595,000. Building commitments for 1919 in Greater New York amounted to $269,767,000, and of this total $149,453,000 was for residential construction.

Centered about New York City, in what is commonly termed the Metropolitan district, the progress of the past year is most evident. It is within the bounds of this territory that a large percentage of the most important building operations of the country are located. At the same time there has been a consistent growth of activity in small projects that has marked the year as one of unusual achievement.

In Manhattan it is natural that there should have been some delay in commencing building operations because these are individually larger in both size and cost than those common to other parts of the district. Consequently they required more time for financing, planning and the perfection of other preliminaries. The first really important job to be started after the building revival was the handsome structure for the Pictorial Review at the corner of Seventh avenue and 39th street, costing upward of $3,000,000 and for which the G. B. Beaumont Company is the contractor. This building is now nearing completion and will be ready for occupancy early in 1920. Rapidly following the start of this project other important structures were announced to the local building trades and these announcements followed so closely that at the present time the list of large operations underway is noteworthy. When the work now being planned is added to the list of projects under way the showing is formidable.

Dominating the building schedule for 1920 are such projects as the new home for the Federal Reserve Bank, the addition to the Western Union Building, the Cunard Building, and many others of similar importance. At the same time the program of prospective work includes numerous high class office and loft buildings in the mid-town section, to say nothing of the private residence development on the Upper East Side, the palatial apartments on Fifth and Park avenues and the Upper West Side, memorials such as Victory Hall in Pershing Square and the 106th Infantry Post, American Legion, in Brooklyn, etc. Along with this vast group of monumental projects there is a great variety of miscellaneous construction involving schools, clubs, hospitals, social centers, etc., and a lengthy list of alteration jobs that when considered as a unit will involve the outlay of many millions of dollars during the coming year.

In the Bronx the building situation as a whole has been somewhat backward, but during the latter part of the year there was a decidedly marked movement toward the resumption of speculative activity in the West Bronx, along the line of the Jerome avenue subway and the Grand Concourse. There is an insistent demand for living accommodations in modern apartment houses located in this section of the city, and it is this type of building that is now most acive. The rentals obtained in the Bronx are higher than ever before and it has been this fact, coupled with the active selling market for improved real estate, that has been responsible for the increased speculative building movement. In this borough there has also been a fair amount of industrial building and also some construction of one and two-family dwellings, but operations of the latter classifications have not as yet come into the prominence they enjoyed prior to the outbreak of the war.

When considering the building outlook for the Bronx the greatest hope for the coming year is based upon the anticipated increase in apartment house construction. Plans for a large number of operations of this type are now being prepared by architects and it appears as if the new year would witness a large amount of housing activity in this borough that will again bring the section into prominence as one of the leading building centers of the entire city.

At the commencement of 1919 Brooklyn obtained an early start upon the other boroughs in the matter of revival of building interest. The housing scarcity had been particularly severe in this section and as property values were relatively low builders were quick to grasp their opportuntiy to readily dispose of all new buildings produced at excellent prices. This condition was responsible for the construction of a great number of one and two-family dwellings in the Bay Ridge, Coney Island, East New York and Flatbush sections, that as the year progressed developed into one of the most remarkable features of the local building revival. That movement is now at its maximum and from all existing indications will maintain its present rate of intensity throughout the coming year. The demand for small dwellings in Brooklyn is as keen today as it was ten months ago and speculative builders are perfecting their plans for a banner season.

In Brooklyn the builders of apartment and tenement houses were somewhat slower to realize their opportunities, and it was well along toward the middle of the year before these interests became really active factors in the building situation of the borough. At present, however, they are making up for lost time and the plans in preparation indicate a tremendous increase in multi-family house construction in Flatbush and the Park Slope, Brownsville, Bay Ridge, Eastern Parkway and Bushwick sections. The primary reason for the revival of interest in this phase of activity is the fact that rentals, instead of being stabilized at the present high levels, will undoubtedly mount considerably higher during 1920 and apartment house builders are making determined efforts to complete their projects in order to take advantage of these conditions.

Another phase of Brooklyn building worthy of comment is the construction of commercial garages. Never before in the history of the borough has there been a time when so many large garage operations were underway simultaneously, nor has there been a period when architects had orders ahead for such a vast volume of projected garage work. The development of the borough along industrial lines, coupled with the fact that business firms, manufacturers, etc., are changing their delivery systems in favor of the more speedy and economical automobile trucks, is wholly responsible for this movement, and the garages now underway are only a small percentage of those to be erected during the coming twelve months.

Brooklyn also has been extremely active in the construction of other types of building projects. The borough has experienced a consistent growth in almost every line and evidences a desire to keep abreast of the times through its plans for the early construction of schools, churches, clubs, store and office buildings, community and welfare projects and all other types of structures that help to create a complete modern civic unit.

The tremendous increase in the volume of construction in Queens during 1919 is the natural result of the operation of the new lines of transit connecting the borough with Manhattan, Brooklyn and the Bronx, at a single fare. These new facilities have at least made Queens an integral part of New York City and have caused an unprecedented demand for factory and home sites. The enormous industrial growth and development that has taken place during the year has added materially to the demand for homes for the employes of these new plants. Approximately one hundred industrial establishments have located in the borough during 1919 and there is no indication that the influx of new industrial life has begun to recede.

Although 1919 shows the greatest building movement on record in the history of Queens Borough, these new structures have largely been factory buildings and detached homes. The borough needs today more than any other one type of building, the construction of thousands of tenements and apartment houses to accommodate not only those who are attracted by the new transit facilities, but employes of the factories within the borough. It was recently calculated that $100,000,000 could be reasonably expended upon the construction of multi-family buildings during the next few years without causing a recession in the demand for living quarters or without establishing an overbuilt condition. According to the plans now being prepared for building operations scheduled for a start early in 1920 the progress of Queens in regard to the provision of homes for the workers in its population will be one of the noteworthy features of the new year.

One of the factors that to a great extent affected the building industry in the local territory during the past year was the numerous difficulties encountered in the labor situation. Early in the year adequate labor to supply the demands of the industry was not to be had and employers were forced to pay a premium in many instances. As the military forces were demobilized many men were released to the trades they formerly worked in and although there was a sufficient number available there was considerable unrest accompanied by demands for shorter hours and increased wages. During the past year employers in substantially every trade affiliated with the building industry had to contend with strikes or lockouts of varying duration, and these were largely responsible for the retarded building progress. Carpenters, bricklayers, painters, plasterers and other trades were out on strike at different times during the year and in a number of instances created such an intolerable condition at a time when concerted effort to revive building activity was being made that employers were forced into the position of acceding to their demands in order to complete the projects under construction. Meanwhile the Building Trades Employers Association and the Building Trades Council were in almost constant negotiations having for an object the adoption of an agreement including all trades connected with the industry and providing for a wage rate and hours of labor that would be satisfactory to all concerned. Early in November it was announced that agreement had been reached and this instrument was subsequently signed by representatives of both sides. Through this agreement it is anticipated that the building industry of Greater New York and Long Island will be able to work in complete harmony and accord at least throughout 1920 and possibly longer. The bricklayers are the only trade not represented in this agreement and negotiations are now underway that will provide an equitable basis for these workers during the coming year.

Building Industry Making Preparations for Active Year

Architects and Engineers Busy on Plans for Important Projects To Be Started Early in 1920

DURING the past three weeks the average total of new building and engineering construction projects scheduled for the territory including all of New York State and New Jersey, north of Trenton, has amounted to approximately $38,000,000 which indicates very definitely that the coming year will be one of the most active from a building standpoint in the history of the industry. According to figures prepared by the F. W. Dodge Company, reports of new projects announced in this territory during the week of December 20 to 26, inclusive, amounted to a total of $38,780,100. In the week previous the newly reported operations involved an expenditure of $47,832,500 and for the seven days prior the total amounted to $30,758,700.

There has also been a steady and consistent increase in the number and value of the building and engineering projects placed under contract with 146 operations, representing an outlay of $15,384,865, reported to the trade during the week of December 20 to 26, inclusive. One of the outstanding facts in connection with these figures is the marked increase shown in the construction of business and commercial projects within the territory. In this branch of construction more than $10,000,000 of the entire total for the past week was for projects of this character. Numerically new operations having for their object the provision of additional housing accommodations leads the list with 123 jobs involving an expenditure of $3,045,500.

The 274 operations for which plans were reported as in progress during the week of December 20 to 26, inclusive, included 63 business and commercial buildings, $19,916,000; 8 educational projects, $718,000; 5 hospitals and institutions, $180,500; 37 factory and industrial buildings, $11,249,000; 1 project for the army, $150,000; 5 public buildings, $80,900; 14 public works and public utilities, $1,384,200; 3 religious and memorial buildings, $100,000; 123 residential operations such as apartments, flats and tenements and one and two-family dwellings, $3,045,500 and 15 social and recreational projects, $1,956,000.

The list of 146 operations for which contracts were placed may be sub-divided as follows: 32 business and commercial buildings, including stores, offices, lofts, commercial garages, etc., $10,868,500; 2 hospitals and institutions, $111,000; 27 factory and industrial projects, $2,718,000; 2 public buildings, $10,900; 15 public works and public improvements, $597,465; 1 religious project, $85,000; 64 residential buildings of various types, $933,000 and 3 social and recreational projects, $61,000.

PERSONAL AND TRADE NOTES.

Frank E. Wallis, architect, has been chosen by the Building Committee of the City Club of New York to advise on the planning of the $1,000,000 clubhouse that is contemplated for an early start.

Reading Iron Company announces that it has acquired the plant of the E. & G. Brooke Iron Company at Birdsboro, Pa. The acquisition of this important property adds materially to the already extensive manufacturing equipment of the Reading Iron Company. Through this addition to its manufacturing facilities the skelp capacity is increased 2,800 tons a month, with a corresponding increase in the production of finished wrought iron pipe. The purchase of this plant represents the second step in plant extension which the Reading Iron Company has made since the present executive management took charge a few months ago.

Walter E. Rosengarten recently resigned his position as Highway Engineer in the United States Bureau of Public Roads to accept the position of Traffic Engineer with the Asphalt Association and will make his headquarters at 15 Maiden Lane, New York. Captain Robert B. Murdock, who recently returned from military service in France, has been appointed executive engineer with the Asphalt Association. He will directly assist the Secretary of the Association in developing the organization and policy.

Important Madison Avenue Project.

Plans were filed with the Bureau of Buildings this week for a sixteen-story store and office building that will soon be started at the northwest corner of Madison avenue and 41st street by the Fred F. French Company, architects, engineers and builders, 299 Madison avenue. This operation will represent the investment of $2,500,000. The plans call for a building with a frontage of 50 feet on Madison avenue and 75 feet in 41st street. The building has been designed to provide for the accommodation of a trust company on the first and second floors with the upper floors planned for occupancy as offices. The Fred F. French Company will occupy the upper floors as its home office upon the completion of the building.

F. H. Kimball, Leading Architect, Dies.

Francis Hatch Kimball, for a number of years one of the leading architects of New York, and identified with the design and construction of a number of the most important buildings in the city, died Christmas Day after a short illness. Mr. Kimball was practically born to the building business. His relatives in New England were all identified with the industry in some form and as a boy Mr. Kimball became extremely interested in construction. His early education was obtained in Kennebunk, Maine, his native town, and in his fourteenth year he began his apprenticeship.

His first employment on leaving home was at Hartford, Conn., where he prepared the working drawings of the Charter Oak Life Insurance Company's building. He also drew the plans for a business block for the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company. This undertaking covered a period of two years, and his work was so thoroughly done that his talents were immediately recognized and the road to success was opened to him. He was employed upon the competition for the State Capitol of Connecticut. Later he was engaged as supervising architect of Trinity College at Hartford.

Coming to New York Mr. Kimball soon found himself. By his genius and ability, his untiring energy and perseverance he readily attained an enviable position in his profession. His last great architectural achievement was in the designing and construction of the new and magnificent skyscraper of the Adams Express Company at 61 Broadway. This is regarded as one of the most beautiful, modern in every detail, office building in the metropolis.

But this is not the only large building that he planned and supervised. He has the Trinity, U. S. Realty, the Empire, the City Investing and other like structures to his credit; also the Trust Company of America, the Seligman and Brunswick buildings. He was also engaged in the completion of the Albany Grand Theatre.

Others of his works have been equally important from both the commercial and the aesthetic viewpoint. Primarily he was an exponent of the Gothic architecture, but has shown marked versatility in adapting other styles, the Montauk Club in Brooklyn being a notable example of Venetian Gothic.

His first work in the metropolis was the remodeling of the old Madison Square Theatre. This was done in association with the late Thomas Wisedell. The building of the Casino followed, and in that the firm established a reputation. The Casino stands today one of the best examples of Moorish architecture in this country; there followed the Fifth Avenue and Garrick theatres among other important structures in that field.

In the building of the Fifth Avenue Theatre Mr. Kimball encountered difficulties the surmounting of which provided the basic idea for our modern caisson foundation construction. His method was revolutionary, but its value was readily seen and grasped by others. In the extremity of the case in hand Mr. Kimball thought out a system of cylinders filled with masonry. The cylinders were sunk by hand. It was a slow process, but it not only proved of great value in that particular case, but blazed the way for the modern business structure. The pneumatic caisson, which is the direct offspring of Mr. Kimball's idea, was put to the first practical test in the foundation of the Manhattan Life Building, of which the firm of Kimball & Thompson were the architects. That building was the pioneer in steel construction in New York.

Mr. Kimball is survived by his widow, Mrs. Jennie Kimball, who was Miss Jennie G. Wetherell, of North Falmouth, Mass. He was a member of the Players, City and Lawyers' clubs and the New York Chapter of the American Institute of Architects.

CURRENT BUILDING OPERATIONS

OWING to interruptions by the holidays the local building industry experienced a rather quiet week, but taken as a whole the situation shows great promise for the new year and practically everyone identified with the industry is optimistic. The wonderful showing made during 1919, after a start that looked very doubtful, indicated that the building industry possessed stability to a degree not generally realized and to an extent that even surprised many directly interested.

At the commencement of the new year there is a widespread feeling that the worst part of the reconstruction period has now passed and that from now on conditions will steadily improve. Last year labor disturbances, with strikes, lockouts and disputes as to wages and hours of labor, were responsible for considerable lost time and retarded materially the production of new buildings. The recent agreement, while not an absolute prevention of further difficulties, will certainly be a stabilizing medium and should be considered one of the most important achievements of the past year.

Builders generally agree that whatever construction goes ahead during 1920 must submit to the existing high cost levels as there is no indication of a break at this time. To the contrary, all evidence points to a continuation of the upward trend that so notably marked the year just passed. The high rate of wages now almost universally paid for common labor and the steadily increasing scales demanded in the skilled trades will be a bar to price recessions in every line and as the demand for materials and supplies essential to construction is steadily increasing, while production is yet below normal, there is no possibility of levels dropping for many months to come.

Notwithstanding these conditions the building industry is looking forward to one of the most active seasons in its history. The demand for new buildings of practically every type is unabated. Housing accommodations are as scarce today as they were a year ago and although the speculative builders work to the limit of their capacity throughout this year it is doubtful if even then the demand will be satisfied. Throughout the outlying sections of the city and in the suburbs within easy commuting distance of New York plans are being perfected for a tremendous house building movement to start early next spring. At the present time builders are working steadily upon the operations commenced last autumn and they are able to sell their buildings, practically before completion, at prices that four or five years ago would have been considered abnormal.

Common Brick.—Owing to the holidays there was relatively little activity in the Hudson River wholesale market for common brick last week, but the condition was wholly due to the season and not to a drop in buying interest. The arrivals of the week consisted of two barge loads which were both immediately sold at $20 a thousand. The brick now available in this port is being held at $25 a thousand and there is no doubt but that this figure will be obtained very soon. There is no likelihood of brick coming down the river in any great volume until the opening of the spring season. North of Haverstraw the river is practically frozen solid and the towing companies have refused to send their tugs through so whatever brick does come into the market for the remainder of the winter will be from the Haverstraw district. Manufacturers along the river are now generally occupied with burning the brick made during the past season. Up to the present it has been impossible to Summary.—Transactions in the North in small frame dwelling houses, has been River common brick market for the week one of the principal causes of the diffi- ending Friday, January 2, 1920. Condi- culty now experienced in obtaining de- liveries and there is no anticipation that this situation is likely to be relieved for some time to come. Producers are way behind with their orders to wholesalers and as the demand from manufacturing consumers is growing it is likely that next spring will see considerably higher lumber prices than those maintaining at present.

Structural Steel.—Trade conditions are steady and local contractors have just about all of the business booked that they will be able to care for. The build- ing situation throughout this territory is exhibiting signs of great activity for the new year and already the bookings for fabricated material for structural pur- poses are heavier than they have been for many months. Attention of the build- ing industry is now focused upon the con- troversy between the Iron League Erect- ors Association and the Building Trades Council over the question of open shop. The council maintains that the recent agreement provides no loop hole whereby the steel erectors may work non-union men upon building projects in Greater New York and it now appears as though this matter will resolve itself into a con- flict that may have an adverse effect upon the building situation as a whole and which will possibly nullify the agreement so recently consumated. Steel prices have advanced to some extent and there is every reason to look for further increases before the close of the winter.

Electrical Supplies.—Business has been uniformly good with the demand for electrical apparatus considerably in ad- vance of the available supply. There has been a shortage in some of the steel products because of the fuel scarcity at some of the mills and although this situ- ation is now relieved it will require some time for the producers to catch up with their market. Prices, although firm and practically unchanged, are likely to ad- vance to some extent in the near future owing to the increase in cost of raw materials notably steel, copper, etc.

Window Glass—As a result of the vast improvement in the building situation throughout the country, and particularly the tremendous amount of small house construction along the eastern seaboard, the glass situation is rather precarious. The demand for both plate and window glass has recently grown to vast pro- portions and as a consequence both manu- facturers' reserves and jobbers' stocks are practically depleted. What little glass is available is being sold at constanty ad- vancing prices.

Important Apartment Project.

Construction work will begin at once on a fifteen-story apartment building to be erected on a plot of ground 60x80 feet on the southeast corner of Madison avenue and 54th street. The main entrance to the building will be on 54th street, the Madison avenue side being devoted entirely to stores. On the upper fourteen floors there will be eighty-four non-housekeeping apartment which can be divided into suites of one, two and three rooms. The rooms will be exceptionally large and will contain all the latest appointments that are in keeping with apartments of the highest class. Apartments will be rented either furnished or unfurnished. There will be a restaurant in the building and guests can obtain service in their apartments.

The land and building represent a valuation of $1,112,000 on which S. W. Straus & Co. have underwritten a $750,000 amortized first mortgage 6 per cent serial bond issue. It is estimated that the net annual earnings of the building will be $115,000.

The new structure is located in one of the most exclusive sections of New York, which includes the residences of John D. Rockefeller, William K. Vanderbilt, Mrs. W. S. Sloane, Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr. and Henry Huntington, and the Union, University, Racquet and Tennis Clubs. The borrowing corporation is the Waitt Operating Co., Inc., of which Weymer H. Waitt is president and controlling stockholder. Mr. Waitt is the owner of several other high-class apartment buildings of this type in New York City.
